

freedom, all the cocaine and marijuana he wanted, and sex parties. In fact, it was such a hard time, Richard Speck, with two other inmates, made a 2-hour video, a porno video, in the prison TV studio. Two hours. And listen to what Speck says on the tape. He says, "If those squares knew what a good time I was having, they would actually turn me loose."

Beam me up, Mr. Speaker. Eight nurses are rolling over in their graves. The only free thing that Richard Speck should have gotten was 50,000 volts. Is it any wonder America has more murder than any other country on the planet?

All the politicians down here are worried about the rights of criminals. I think they better start being concerned about the rights of the American people.

DEMOCRAT PARTY THE PARTY OF HIGHER TAXES AND BIG GOVERNMENT

(Mr. FUNDERBURK asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FUNDERBURK. Mr. Speaker, no matter how hard they try, no matter how much help they get from the liberal media to convince people otherwise, the Democrat Party is and remains the party of higher taxes and bigger government.

Just look at Bill Clinton's 1997 budget. This budget has tax increases and creates more Government programs. Surprise, surprise.

Mr. Speaker, it is almost reflexive that the Democrats want to raise taxes and spend more money in Washington. Bill Clinton creates 14 new Government programs in his budget and does not even begin to cut domestic spending until 1998. In fact, 76 percent of his spending cuts come after the year 2000.

Mr. Speaker, this budget gives the American people more of what they do not want: Higher taxes, higher spending, and bigger Government. It also provides that liberal Democrats are unwilling to do what it takes to balance the budget and do the right thing for America's children.

LET THOSE WHO PAID BE REPAID

(Mr. FILNER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker, much has been said about the on-going gasoline price crisis and the proposed repeal of the 4.3-cent gas tax.

I would like to offer my three-point plan for this repeal.

First, we must guarantee that this repeal is directly returned to the consumer in the form of lower prices at the gas pump. We must not simply feed the profit margin of big oil companies. We cannot repeal this fee and naively assume that gas prices will decline accordingly. Let those who paid be repaid.

Second, we must pay for this repeal. I have a bill, H.R. 1497, the Insurance Tax Fairness and Small Company Economic Growth Act, that will collect almost $2 billion every year, simply by closing a tax loophole that only benefits the 18 largest mutual life insurance companies.

Third, this Congress must provide answers for the American people about the cause of these price increases. Congress must hold hearings and conduct an investigation. The American people deserve answers from their elected officials and it is our duty to provide those answers.

Mr. Speaker, I say again, the consumer must benefit from our actions—let those who paid be repaid.

MINIMUM WAGE QUOTES

(Mr. BALLENGER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Speaker, now the President wants to "make work pay" by raising the minimum wage. Yet just 2 years ago he said that raising the minimum wage is "the wrong way to raise the income of low-wage earners."

President Clinton knows that upgrading worker skills results in an increase in wages. He has said that "what you earn depends on what you learn; the most effective way to help is to make workers more productive because wages reflect the value of what people produce."

"After all, most minimum wage workers are not poor." That is Secretary Reich to President Clinton.

"An increased minimum wage often takes from the poor to help the middle class." That is economist Robert Shapiro, friend of Bill Clinton's.

UNDERSTAND THE DEBATE ON MEDICARE

(Ms. DELAURO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Speaker, the House is expected to consider another budget resolution this time around. It would seem to me my Republican colleagues would have learned a lesson from the last budget experience. At that time the American public said "no" to severe cuts in Medicare and Medicaid, in education, in the environment.

Although we fought that battle and staved off those cuts, the congressional majority is back here again to cut Medicare. We are looking at a $168 billion cut in Medicare. Cuts of this magnitude force rural hospitals to close and will limit the ability of senior citizens to choose their own doctor.

What are our priorities? What are our values in this Nation? We now have 99 percent of our seniors covered for health care through the Medicare system. Why would we want to dismantle Medicare?

It was the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. GINGRICH] who said not too long ago that what he wanted to see with Medicare was to have it wither on the vine.

The money they cut from Medicare does not go into the Medicare trust fund. Do not let them kid you with that argument. What they will do is one more time pay for tax breaks for the wealthiest Americans. The tax break package is $180 billion, and the cut in Medicare is $168 billion. Understand the debate.

PASS THE CLINTON GAS TAX REPEAL ACT

(Mrs. SEASTRAND asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SEASTRAND. Mr. Speaker, in AL GORE's book, "Earth in the Balance," the Vice President peers into his crystal ball and cheerfully foresees the end of the automobile as America's primary transportation. If he and his Democrat colleagues are attempting to force the automobile out of existence through excessive gas tax hikes, Americans had better fasten their seatbelt, we are in for a wild ride.

While the rest of the Nation averaged just over a 1 cent increase in gas prices, the families on California's central coast witnessed some prices closing in on the $2 mark for a gallon of gas. The American people are tired of unnecessary burdensome taxes to feed the coffers of Washington benefactors. Last week, I introduced H.R. 3415, the Clinton Gas Tax Repeal Act, which will stop this mindless taxation.

The Republican prescription for gas relief is to put money back into the pockets of every working American family. The Democrats prescription for gas relief is a Gas-X tablet and an election year nap. Americans deserve better. Pass H.R. 3415.

TREAT ALL SIDES FAIRLY WITH BUDGET CUTS

(Mrs. SCHROEDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, as we listen to the Republicans talk about budget, budget, balance the budget, balance the budget, well, we will get a chance today to see how serious they are, because we are taking up the defense bill.

I want to tell you, as I said earlier, the British may be having trouble with mad cow disease, but the Republicans are having trouble with sacred cow disease. This is the biggest scared cow you have ever seen, this defense budget. Everybody else is downsizing. Not us. They had to add more than the President asked for. In my entire time of being here, I have never seen that.
